Welcome to the 2020 American Cancer Society’s Virginia Hoedown@Home. Our volunteer Board of Ambassadors has worked tirelessly to create tonight’s virtual event. Cancer hasn’t stopped during the pandemic, and with your help neither are we!

I want to thank our presenting sponsor Haley Automotive and our co-chairs Carol and Clarence Williams. We are also grateful to Chuck Baker for leading our efforts in Roanoke. Your leadership and generosity inspire us. I also want to thank all of our sponsors. Your support of the American Cancer Society’s mission demonstrates your compassion for people facing cancer in Richmond and beyond.

More than 47,000 Virginians will learn they have cancer this year. Your support will help us make sure none of them have to face it alone and that we can continue to invest in things like lifesaving cancer research and more.

Thank you again for your support. Hopefully we will don our western attire and gather in person next year!

Brady is a 4-year-old from Richmond who was diagnosed in March of 2020 with medulloblastoma, a common form of childhood brain cancer. Since his diagnosis, Brady has spent time at VCU Children’s Hospital undergoing radiation and chemotherapy to shrink the tumor, surgery to remove the tumor, more chemotherapy after surgery and ultimately a stem cell transplant to regenerate good cells that were lost during his chemotherapy.

Brady’s cancer journey is unique, though, as he underwent diagnosis, surgery and treatment all during the COVID-19 pandemic, when hospital restrictions have been stricter than ever. Brady is only allowed one visitor per 24 hours, meaning his parents have to take turns staying with him. This is the new normal for many cancer patients, as they have had to compromise their support system through an already tough time. It’s not an easy task for anyone, especially for a child.

Join team #BradyStrong today by supporting cancer research and make a donation in honor of Brady.
